

CO. L ARRIVES IN WACO TEXAS

Captain Himes Is In Charge Of First Wisconsin Contingent

Waco, Tex., Aug. 21.—The first contingent of Wisconsin troops assigned to Camp MacArthur, arrived this morning and took up quarters at the camp.

There are about 1,000 men and officers in command of Capt. F. H. Himes, Co. L, Second Wisconsin infantry.

The detachment consists of Cos. A and L, Second infantry; Co. H, Fourth infantry; First field hospital; Battery F, First artillery; field hospital Wisconsin National Guard; Battery H, First field artillery; and Troop H, First Wisconsin cavalry.

STUMP CLEARING TRAIN HERE SOON

Better business follows the adoption of easier, cheaper, and better ways of clearing cut-over land. Farming prospers most and business grows fastest in the communities which have given, or are giving, most attention to the clearing and settling of the land.

To demonstrate some of the advantages of following better methods of land clearing is one of the purposes of the land clearing demonstrations now being made in many of the counties of upper Wisconsin.

These four steps are being generally recommended at these demonstrations:

1. The use of stock to kill sprouts and hasten root decay.
2. The pulling of the stumps with stump pullers.
3. The splitting of the stumps with a little dynamite.
4. The piling of the pieces with piles.

Won't you plan to see the demonstration while the "Special" is at Rhinelander Sept. 27-29. W. D. J. day, county agent, and Mr. White, representing the College of Agriculture, will be in charge of the demonstration. Either of these men will be glad to see you, to introduce you to the manufacturers and to show you the work which is being done.

THREE LAKES MAN DIES

Frank Yankowski, aged 47, died Friday night in St. Mary's hospital. Leakage of the heart was the cause of death. He was a resident of Three Lakes and is survived by a family. The remains were shipped to Three Lakes for interment Monday.

LEAVE FOR FT. SHERIDAN

M. H. Barton departed Tuesday night for his home in Indiana, where after a short visit he will enter the Officers' Reserve training camp at Fort Sheridan, Ill.

STATE CROPS TO BREAK RECORDS

The condition of Wisconsin crops on August 1, with the exception of corn, was never better, according to the report of the Commissioner of Agriculture. Practically every crop runs above the ten year average. The largest acreage and the largest crop of potatoes (37,800 bushels) ever produced in the state is in prospect. The condition of the crop is placed at 95, compared to a ten year average of 81. Late blight, the disease most feared by Wisconsin potato growers, has not appeared as yet, and the bugs are under control.

The hay crop was cut and cured under almost ideal conditions, with an estimated total production of 4,760,000 tons. The average yield of clover was 1.70 tons, compared to the ten year average of 1.42. Oats and barley are likely to produce bumper crops. The estimated production is 87,000,000 bushels of oats compared to 81,400,000 bushels last year, and 19,700,000 bushels of barley, compared to 18,300,000 bushels last year.

Rye yielded an average of 17 bushels per acre, with a total estimated production of 7,290,000 bushels, compared to 6,075,000 bushels last year; winter wheat yielded 23 bushels, or a total production of 2,210,000 bushels compared to 1,533,000 bushels last year; and the condition of spring wheat, 91, forecasts a total yield of 2,770,000 bushels compared to 1,776,000 bushels last year.

Corn is two weeks late and needs much warmer weather to bring it to maturity. The condition on August 1, 80 per cent, is two per cent below the ten year average.

Apples are rather a poor crop. Although the stand of fruit in the spring was very promising, scab, other diseases, and insects have seriously injured the crop. Cabbage, tobacco, onions, beans, sugar beets, and most of the other crops of this nature are extremely promising, showing a condition of nearly normal, or an increase of from 5 to 10 per cent above the ten year average.

CARS CLASH

Corner of S. Oneida Avenue and Anderson street was the scene of an automobile accident Wednesday forenoon when A. S. Pierce's car and the car owned by Dr. W. F. Smith collided. The damage to both machines, was slight.

This is a dangerous corner and three accidents have occurred there this summer. The "silent policeman" which was recently removed from this corner should be replaced.

WILL REMAIN IN GAGEN

Several weeks ago the New North stated that the Gagen Lumber & Cedar company was to rebuild its saw mill plant in Monico. F. H. Piehl, manager of the company, informed the New North over the telephone Wednesday that the company will continue to do business in Gagen and any story regarding locating in Monico is false. The New North published the afore said article in good faith and on what was considered reliable information. This correction is gladly made.

GRANGE TO MEET

Pine Lake Grange No. 575 will hold a special open meeting Thursday, August 30. A big attendance is requested.

BLAZE IN AUTOMOBILE

A Ford automobile caught fire on Brown street early Monday night and both hose companies responded to the alarm. Damage to the car was slight.

ONEIDA COUNTY'S GREATEST FAIR SEPTEMBER 4-6

September 4, 5 and 6 are the dates of the year's greatest holidays—the Oneida County Fair. President F. T. Coon, Secretary Arthur Taylor and other officials of the Oneida County Agricultural Association have been busy for the last three months arranging for the coming fair, which according to prediction, will be by far the biggest and best in the annals of the county. To assure the realization of this prediction it is only necessary that the weather man be there with his sunniest smiles.

At the Oneida County Fair this year there will be more and better exhibits in all departments, more high class amusements, more and faster horse racing, more thrilling free acts, more music and more fun for young and old, than ever before. If you miss this fair you will be missing something really worth while. Arrange to attend the entire three days. Take along the whole family and go prepared to enjoy the big show to the limit. Buy a season ticket and urge your friends to do likewise. Remember the dates, September 4, 5 and 6.

HOW OUR FAIR CAN HELP

"Shall we hold our fair this year?"

That question, due to unsettled conditions, is being asked in many counties. The editor of one of Wisconsin's leading county weeklies has answered it so satisfactorily that we are printing his answer.

"In view of the fact that a great war is upon us, the thought of some at first was not to hold a fair this year; but the officers wisely decided to go on as usual and have an exhibition which would reflect the progress of this part of the country.

"The thought of war cannot, and should not, be excluded from the minds of the people. The many who will meet here in reunion next month will be sobered by the thought of war, and the sacrifices which it demands. It will not be an occasion given wholly to pleasure, but an event which will be remembered as having been held at a time of the greatest war in all history, when the strong, young men of the land went forth to battle that freedom might not perish from the earth. It is not at all necessary that the sports and attractions be stricken from the program of the fair. These, under proper control, are always in order on such occasions.

"But it is necessary to give emphasis to the greater things which make for progress, as it has always been the purpose of the management to give proper emphasis to these things. Wisconsin has responded nobly to the country's call for increased production of food. If you would see evidences of this fact, look about you. Fields of grain are nearly ready for the harvest, city lots are under cultivation as never before, and fields and gardens promise abundant yields. Year by year advanced methods of production have been introduced with most satisfactory results. No section of the country can show greater progress than ours. Our fairs have greatly aided in the work of advancement. The coming fair will be no exception to the general rule."

LUMBERJACKS IN FULL STRENGTH

Large And Efficient Force
Ready To Go To France
As A War Auxiliary

Washington, D. C. Aug. 21.—The regiment of lumbermen, officially known as the 10th Engineers (Forest) and nicknamed the "lumberjack regiment," has been recruited to full strength, and the Forest service, which has been securing the men has been notified by the war department to list no more candidates for service with this regiment. In anticipation, however, of a possible call soon for another regiment of the same character the listing of fliers over the country have been instructed to continue listing names of suitable men who may be summoned when needed.

The "lumberjack regiment" is NOT A FIGHTING FORCE but will be employed in woods operation in France, getting out material for army use. The recruits are now being assembled in Washington, where they are drilled daily by the officers assigned to command them. Colonel Woodruff of the regular army who will head the regiment is in charge and with the assistance of a staff made up of practical lumbermen and foresters is providing an equipment of the most up-to-date character for the type of woods operations called for in the list of the experience of the allies. The regiment will take with it both stationary and portable sawmills with everything necessary for logging and saw mill work and for transporting the product.

HERE'S A CHANCE FOR FREE SHAVE

Here is a chance to reduce your barber bill in these days of H. C. of L. There will be a barbers' examination, conducted by the state board of examiners, at the Dusel shop, 130 S. Brown street, Tuesday, August 28. Shaves and hair cuts will be free and if you care to have a student barber scrape the alfalfa off your map or, go over your dome with a lawn mower, you won't be charged for taking the risk.

George Dusel says that applicants for barber licenses from all parts of northern Wisconsin will be here to take the examination. At present there is a scarcity of barbers due to a large number of the craft having entered the army and the draft has taken many more.

NAB JEFFREYS

Luke Jeffreys, who has been wanted since last May on a robbery charge, was arrested Tuesday in Kenosha by Sheriff Hans Bold and Under-Sheriff Charles Crofoot. Jeffreys is alleged to have entered Earl Howe's place of business opposite the fair grounds, and looted the contents of the cash drawer.

TO ENTER OFFICERS' CAMP

Attorney Grover Stapleton, son of Postmaster and Mrs. Matt Stapleton, is one of the many candidates who will enter the second officers' Reserve Training camp in Fort Sheridan, Ill. Attorney Stapleton is located in Sturgeon Bay, Wis., and is regarded as one of Door county's leading young lawyers.

JUDGE REID HOME FROM ALASKA

Judge A. H. Reid arrived home Saturday night from a trip with his family to Alaska. Mrs. Reid and Miss Jeanette, stopped at Atchinson, Kas., to visit relatives and will return to Wausau the latter part of the week. The Judge reports a delightful trip and the weather a choice article of sunshine, with just enough rain to lay the dust and make traveling a pleasure. They went over the Canadian Pacific to Vancouver and Seattle and from there on into Alaska. They visited the various coast cities of that far off country of the north, enjoying the scenery and its people, and wondering at the climatic conditions where one would naturally expect a temperature of fifty or sixty below in the winter months, that there is not sufficient frost in the coast cities during the year to freeze water mains and service pipes which are laid upon the surface, being due to the warm Japan ocean currents, which flow along the coast. They climbed mountains and glaciers and gazed upon panoramas of beauty excelled by no country on the face of the earth. One delightful feature of their trip up the channel to Alaska, was the fact that their boat stopped several hours at the various towns and important places along the route giving passengers an opportunity to see the sights, so it was one continuous and varied round of pleasure and it filled all with a desire to go further into this wonderful country. As it was they took in the country about Juneau, Sitka and Skagway and were up on the White Pass, of which so much was said during the great rush of our people to the Klondike, some twenty years ago, in search of gold.

The account of their trip over the narrow gauge railroad as it climbed up, over and around mountains and in its windings one could see at great heights above the train running along looking about like a fly on a steeple, was enough to give one the shivers, and the Judge admitted that his hair stood up, like quills on a "fretful porcupine" when he looked down the mountain sides thousands of feet below.

The crops, generally, looked excellent, but in Dakota and Canada they were not so promising.

The Judge looks as rugged and bronzed as if he had been in a U. S. training camp and he is as pleased to get back upon his native heath as we are all delighted to have him.—Wausau Pilot.

RACE HORSES TO MARSHFIELD

Rhinelander was well represented in the races at the Marshfield fair this week. Four horses from this city were sent to that city Saturday to participate in the track events. William Handell, D. R. Becker, B. L. Horr and P. E. Kall are the owners of the horses. Next week the steppers will be sent on the Wausau track at the Marathon county fair.

ARREST MRS. BERTHA GILBERT

On the charge of conducting a saloon without a license, Mrs. Bertha Gilbert of Pelican Lake was arraigned in municipal court Monday and entered a plea of not guilty. Judge C. F. Smith continued the case until next Saturday and she was released under $500 bonds. Mrs. Gilbert is proprietress of the Beach Inn at Pelican Lake.

BOY CATCHES MUSKIE

A twenty pound muskellunge was captured in Lake Thompson Thursday last by Master Elmer Bird of Stevens Point. The fish was one of the largest ever taken from the lake. Elmer is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Bird of Stevens Point, who are making an auto trip through northern Wisconsin.

A TOAST TO THE FLAG

Here's to the Red of it—
There's not a thread of it,
No, nor a shred of it
In all the spread of it
From foot to head.
But heroes bled for it,
Faced steel and lead for it,
Precious blood shed for it,
Bathing it Red.

Here's to the White of it—
Thrilled by the sight of it,
Who knows the right of it,
But feels the might of it
Through day and night,
Womanhood's care for it
Made manhood dare for it;
Purity's prayer for it Keeps it so White.

Here's to the Blue of it—
Heavenly view of it,
Star-spangled hue of it,
Honesty's due of it,
Constant and true.

Here's to the whole of it,
Stars, stripes, and pole of it,
Here's to the soul of it—
Red, White and Blue.

—John J. Daly, Editor of the New Britain Herald.

WHY LIVING COST SOARS SO HIGH

New York—There are more hard ships resulting from the world war, Horatio, than this world dreams of.
For evidence, hook your arm in to a market basket and go foraging for food among the green grocers and food purveyors.

This is what you will hear:
"The price of honey has gone up," says the man who deals in bee products. "The heavy guns in Europe, y'understand, cause vibrations in the air, which shake the pollen from the feet of the bees as they carry it from the flowers to the hives."

"Yes, eggs are high," says the poultry dealer, "due to the shortage of doorknobs for nest eggs. They're using all the old doorknobs for shrapnel."

"We have to charge high prices for mutton," says the butcher, "because the sheep are being frightened by so many soldiers. The sheep run and hide and we can't find them."

"Fifteen cents a quart for raspberries is high, I'll admit," says the truck gardener. "But you see the British drive in Flanders has caused so many clouds, and clouds cause rain, and rain knocks the berries from the vines."

"Ham is high priced," says the restaurant keeper, "because so many pigs are committing suicide.
When a respectable American pig sees some of those anti-German cartoons, he gets ashamed of himself and drowns in a puddle of mud."

"Corn on the cob," says the hotel waiter. "Yes, it is rather steep. But the demand for corn cobs as a substitute for corks in filling the bung holes of empty barrels is so great that we just can't get 'em."

YOUR CHANCE TO HELP SOLDIERS

Believing firmly in the desirability of keeping the soldier boys
in close touch with home affairs
while they are on duty, the State Council of Defense has formulated
a plan whereby this may be accomplished for the Wisconsin soldiers.
"Now is the time when Uncle Sam expects every citizen to be a soldier. To each of us comes the privilege of rendering a soldier
service to our country, even though most of us must remain at home. It is up to every one of us to stand back of the boys who wear the uniform and who bear the brunt of our battle at the front.

"Every fellow who is to have the honor of representing Wisconsin at the front should have every reasonable assurance that his home affairs will receive the best possible attention while he is away, and that every effort will be made to have his regular position, or a better one for him when he comes back.

"Back of every soldier boy there should be here at home a citizen soldier who would be his personal friend and 'back-home' fellow,
his brother, his pal.

"We, therefore, urge every county Council of Defense to call for volunteers, warm blooded Americans who are not called to the colors, to enlist in the army at home,
with every soldier in the home
army personally standing back of one of the boys in Uncle Sam's real army.

"The call should come now, so that each home soldier may select or be selected by an enlisted man, establish relations, and become the acquaintance and helping friend of the family or relatives left behind.

"The soldier at home should see that his real soldier pal is, at all times, properly equipped with such articles of clothing, etc., as the government is not in a position to furnish at the present time. He could see that the tobacco pouch,
where carried, is never empty.

"Let every boy who follows the flag feel that he leaves behind a soldier pal with a soldier spirit.

"There are many who would like to go many who can't go, many who would welcome the chance to serve their country in some real way. Here's the chance, the big chance, the real chance. It is the one thing left undone in all our efficient organizations because it is intimate, personal, and for that very reason is helpful in a way that no institution or organization can be.

"Each County Council of Defense in Wisconsin is directed at once, to send out this call for the volunteers to fill the ranks of the soldiers at home. A definite plan for carrying out this work will shortly be sent out.

"The State Council of Defense wants to be very certain that no soldier following the flag is without a soldier at home standing back of him with encouragement and practical, every-day home service.

"As a soldier at the front is subject to organization and discipline,
so the soldier at home, in order to do effective work, must have organization."

FINE PLACE ON LAKE KATHERINE

Tourists from all over the middle west who visit the Hazelhurst resort country are pleasantly surprised to find there, in the heart of the deep woods, a business place, which for style, fixtures, stock and service, compares favorably with any of the best establishments of its kind in the large cities. This is Lake Katherine Buffet owned and operated by Frank Bryant, who for many years was in business in Rhineland.

Lake Katherine Buffet is located in an ideal spot on the shores of beautiful Lake Katherine in Hazel-hurst. The building is of bungalow design and was built after Mr. Bryant's own ideas. The interior is elegantly furnished with everything which means for the comfort and accommodation of patrons.
The equipment is of the kind which aids employees to perform their duties quickly and easily, thus giving the best of service at all times.
It is a real up-to-the-minute place
and there is nothing better this side of Milwaukee.

Frank Bryant, the whole souled proprietor, who is known far and wide for bigness of body and heart, invites his Rhinelanders
friends to call on him when up that way and assures them a warm welcome.

After January 1st there can be no more common law marriages without a marriage license. Since the eugenic law passed in 1915 there have been many common law marriages to escape getting a license, such a marriage being legal if the parties thereto simply filed a written declaration of their intention with a register of deeds. Under the new law common law marriages may still be performed but the parties are required to first obtain a license before the contract is valid.

MAY LOCATE BIG STOCK FARM HERE

C. Eby, returned the first of the week from the twin cities, where he has been consulting some stock men, who want a big stock farm of several hundred acres. They are expected here some time this week to look over some of Mr. Eby's holdings, west of Rhinelander, which are well adapted for raising stock. They are men of means and will be a big help to this community.

C. Eby has sold several pieces of land in town of Cassin, near Harshaw, to H. J. Barrick, and J. B. Loomis who will clear it up at once. A. J. Iwan from Pueblo, Col., will be here this week to look over some of Mr. Eby's holdings in same township, with the intention of putting in a large stock and sheep ranch.

MRS. C. P. CROSBY HEADS W. C. T. U.

A banquet concluded the Inter-county convention of the W. C. T. U. in Antigo. Mrs. Josephine Sizer of Milwaukee, state lecturer and organizer, was the principal speaker. The following officers were elected:

SHOWS NEED FOR TRAINED FARMERS

A small tent at many of the county fairs this summer will probably be visited by many wide-eyed youths who want to know why they want an agricultural education. H. L. Walster, of the college department of the College of Agriculture, will be in charge of the exhibit.

The exhibit is only one part of a big campaign which has just been launched to encourage young men not called to the army to enlist for training for the farm in technical schools.

The need for trained men on the farm is shown rather conclusively by the different parts of the exhibit. It also shows clearly the scope of the work of the college, with interesting charts and displays representative of all departments. Pictures of the students at work are shown.

KELLEY BROS. SELL OUT
Tom and John Kelley Jr., who have been operating a general store at Bradley for the past few years, have sold out their business to Johnson Bros. who have been operating a store in Spirit Falls under the firm name of Osling & Johnson, who will conduct the business in the future. Tom says he has made his "pile" and is going to retire for a couple of months before settling down again. The Johnson boys have made a success of their business at Spirit Falls and we bespeak for them the same success in their new venture.—Tomahawk Leader.

Every woman can better do her bit by reading the home-canning department in

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

I wish that all the families in this vicinity understood as I do what this regular weekly department means—what it actually saves in food, money and time.

Farm folks are doing the big work at home these days. Farm women, by economizing and meeting present conditions, are real soldiers.

The Country Gentleman's home-canning department is like the rest of the paper. It is made up of ideas gathered from the most practical, experienced farmers—both men and women—in the country.

That's why The Country Gentleman is the national farm weekly—not restricted to a small locality.

I'm enthusiastic about it. I know what it will mean to you. I know that the one dollar you invest in a year's subscription—52 issues, one every week—will bring returns and pleasure you never dreamed of.

Send me a dollar bill or your check and I'll start The Country Gentleman your way at once. Your money back if I'm not right.

RHINELANDER PROOF Should Convince Every Rhinelander Reader

The frank statement of a neighbor, telling the merits of a remedy, bids you pause and believe. The same endorsement By some stranger far away Commands no belief at all. Here's a Rhinelander case. A Rhinelander citizen testifies. Read and be convinced.

Frank Rogers, cabinet maker, 730 Wabash St., Rhinelander, says: "My back ached and I had pains through my loins. My kidneys were weak, too. I finally got Doan's Kidney Pills at Reardon's Drug Store and they gave me great relief."

OVER TWO YEARS LATER Mr. Rogers said: "I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills off and on since I recommended them and have always found good results. I think just as highly of them now as I did when I gave my former endorsement."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Rogers has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

RHEUMATISM ARRESTED

Many people suffer with lame muscles and stiffened joints because blood impurities have invaded the system and caused rheumatism.

To arrest rheumatism it is quite as important to improve your general health as to purify your blood, and the cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is nature's great blood-maker, while its medicinal nourishment strengthens the organs to expel the impurities and rebuild your strength. Try it.

"For the cause that lacks assistance:
For the wrong that needs resistance:
For the future in the distance:
And the good that we can do."

Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, is now devoting a large part of his energy to the destruction of the naval board, because they have given some wholesome suggestions and honest criticisms in the management of naval affairs. It is too bad that the departments at Washington are not headed by men of sufficient mental caliber to work for the interests of the country instead of playing petty politics and seeking self-laudation.

While a few members of congress are brave enough to fight for the interests of the masses in the passage of a war tax, yet the majority of the members of this body are braving the storm of the poor little man at home, to fight for the money kings who have lobbyists on the ground to influence the members and report matters to the masses at the distance. It always has been, and probably always will be, thus.

During the past few weeks we have accepted Mr. A. W. Brown's articles on road construction in Oneida county, hoping to see him add something in the interest of the masses, but we have been just as willing to publish the answer and table by the State Highway Commission, which we think will show every tax-payer that Oneida county is not being robbed. It is not our desire to print one side of a contention and refuse to accept the answer, but publish both sides that the masses may read and think for themselves.

There never was a time in the history of the world when labor got so little for its services as right now. Consequently, we must be gentle with the tax upon labor. While many industries are unable to pay more to labor, yet we must fully realize that the laboring man bases everything on the amount of necessities he can buy with his services, and at this time while in dollars labor seems high, we fully realize that the laboring man is necessarily held down to the bare necessities of life. Be gentle with the pocketbooks of labor.

PATRIOTISM
The country is overrun with men and women offering somebody else to the cause. That is the way patriotism takes some people. They want to be patriotic at reasonable rates. These won't fight themselves and they don't intend to give a dollar. They wear flags in their button-holes and wave them from their houses. They drag boys up to the recruiting stations and hang "Your Country Needs You" signs in their office windows. But when you ask them to give even half of their surplus incomes to pay for the war, they holler murder and hire lawyers and lobbyists to go to Washington to fight the income tax. A law confiscating the lives of our youth for military service is already written upon the statute books. A law confiscating the incomes of the rich should be written on the same page—Amos Pinchot in Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineer's Magazine.

WEALTH AND PATRIOTISM
Wealth has never yet sacrificed itself on the altar of patriotism, declared Senator LaFollette in a speech in the senate Tuesday on the war tax bill. The senator spoke for nearly three hours in favor of radically higher levies on war profits and incomes of the wealthy.

"Wealthy interests, he asserted, favor having more bonds and fewer taxes, although the people prefer heavier taxation. He flayed what he termed 'rich slackers'."

Advocating conscription of wealth to pay for the war Senator LaFollette said 50 per cent of war profits instead of only about 26 per cent should be taken by the government. He emphasized the small proportion of war revenues it is proposed to raise by taxes—about one fifth the sum to be received from bonds—and contended that the tax bill could easily be increased by more than $1,500,000,000 by increasing war profits and income tax rates.

"It is a part of the history of all great wars that wealth has demanded the minimum of taxation and the maximum of loans, while the poorer classes have desired the maximum of taxation and the minimum of loans and this difference is accentuated now since war profits and excessive incomes are being forced by taxation to contribute some portion of the revenues which war makes it necessary to raise."

"It may be argued that the poor equally with the rich will have the opportunity to purchase war bonds. It is small comfort to have the opportunity to purchase bonds, if you have little or no money to invest in bonds. The late 'Liberty loan' is a good example of bonds sold to the poor or those of limited means. All the machinery of the government was set in motion to sell these bonds to the small investor."

"We all know that these bonds were a poor investment to the man of small means, in comparison with the advantages which the owners of large incomes could secure from investing millions of their taxable incomes in these non-taxable bonds. The government has made them the equivalent of an investment paying from 5 to 9 per cent and more to persons with large incomes who will escape the income tax on every dollar thus invested: while to the wage earner and the man with a salary so small as not to be reached by the income tax, who pinched and saved and sacrificed in order to purchase them, they return but a meagre 3 1/2 per cent. The result is that these bonds will soon find their way wholly into the hands of the wealthy."

"We are counseled by the highest economic authority, we are admonished by all history, we are commanded by every consideration of justice to the American boys who are marked for slaughter, to the American homes already in the shadow of death, to declare here and now by our votes on this record that the wealth of this country will be taken as mercilessly through the power of taxation as men are taken by force of the draft."

CIRCLE C STORE

Crofoot's Circle C, the Red Front Store, will open for business Saturday. This store will be conducted strictly on the cash and carry system and the lowest possible prices will prevail. The best of meats and groceries will always be on sale. Ward Crofoot will manage the business and will later be joined by his brother, Kenneth.

He was struck on the head by an iron hook when the cable on a stump puller broke. It is said that Davis will recover.

PRETTY WEDDING AT CROSBY HOME

Miss Florence A. Crosby Is Married To Mr. Harold Martin Peck

Last evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Percell Crosby, on Onida Avenue, was solemnized the marriage of their daughter, Florence Armstrong to Harold Martin Peck, in the presence of the family and a few of the intimate friends.

Promptly at half past eight o'clock, the ushers, Hugh Alban Lewis and Ronald Reardon cleared the way for the bride party.

Miss Verna Squier played an interlude and as the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March was heard, the little flower girls, Edith Lewis and Elizabeth Crosby, appeared bearing baskets of flowers, which they strewed along the way; following the flower girls came the bridesmaids, Leone Morgan, Margaret Shelton, Jean Hamilton, and Ethel Wyckoff of Corning, Iowa, gowned in white with touches of coral pink, carrying arm bouquets of Marechal Niel roses.

Preceding the bride was her sister, Marian, as maid of honor, who wore a gown of coral pink voile and satin and carried an arm bouquet of Marechal Niel roses. The bride in white net and satin, carrying a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley, on the arm of her father, were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Charles Crosby.

Rev. Charles Wicks read the very impressive and beautiful marriage service of the Congregational church. The service was performed in the library, one corner being banked with palms and ferns, with roses, sweet peas, and poppies, with colored candle shades completing the color scheme of coral pink and white.

Following congratulations and best wishes, refreshments were served in the dining room.

The bride has lived in Rhineland for the past fifteen years and has been active in the social life of the younger set and in the Congregational church. After attending the University of Wisconsin, she was a successful teacher in Iowa, where she became acquainted with Mr. Peck.

Just as the bride was leaving, she threw her bride's bouquet over the banister into the group of young people standing below. It was caught by Margaret Shelton.

Mr. and Mrs. Peck have gone to Elcho for a few days. They will return Saturday, leaving that night for Mr. Peck's home at Indianola, Iowa, where on Tuesday evening his parents will give a large reception to welcome Mrs. Peck into their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Peck will live at Guthrie Center, Iowa, where Mr. Peck has charge of the Manual Training Department of the schools of that city.

The best wishes of the many friends of the Crosby family go with them to their new home.

"Sacred Branch"

Perhaps no emblem of yuletide is invested with so much of charm or religious significance as the "sacred branch" known as the mistletoe. With its curious habits and properties, its mystical symbolism, its quaint traditions, it is both weird and romantic. To the occultist, the mystic, the student of religions, it is a treasure-trove taking him far back on the tides of time, for all races, nations and faiths have their myths and philosophies corresponding to the cult of the mistletoe in ancient Brittany and based on the homage attributed to some mystical plant sacred to the deity in manifestation—the word made flesh.

Why England Is Called John Bull

Every country has a nickname, and is represented in pictures by an animal. The British lion is the animal which stands for England, and John Bull is its owner and master. The lion is the country; John Bull is the nation. The name John Bull comes from a work written by John Arbuthnot, a witty doctor and writer, a great friend of Swift and Pope. He was born in Scotland in 1667 and died in 1735. The sketch that he wrote dealt with the political affairs of Europe at the time and the countries were made to appear as if they were men and women.

Perpetual Candor

"I suppose that when you make a speech you mean every word of it." "Every word," replied Senator Sargent. "And I'm just as much in earnest when I discover that there are some parts of it that I had better modify or retract."

The Lady Spoke Last

A five-year-old girl and a three-year-old girl were talking. "I'm older than you," said the boy, elated over the fact. Said the girl, "Well, I'm never than you."

HATCHING IS "GREAT STRAIN"

Lice Working Unmolested While Hen Is Sitting Is Most Responsible for Poor Condition.

The average poultry man will say that hatching is a "great strain" on a hen, and the condition of some of the birds on finishing their hatches seems to bear out this statement. But the harm done by the lice working unmolested while her motherly instinct keeps the hen busy is more responsible for her run-down condition than the energy required in the actual work of incubating the eggs.

The dusting with lice powder should be done not only at the beginning of the hatch, but about once a week throughout the sitting period.

TO ERADICATE CHICKEN LICE

Sodium Fluorid Found to Be Efficient by Entomologists of Agricultural Department.

Entomologists of the United States department of agriculture have demonstrated that all species of lice which infest poultry may be quickly destroyed by the application of a very small quantity of sodium fluorid, according to the annual report of the chief of the bureau of entomology just issued.

SUPERIOR FEED FOR CHICKS

Corn Bread With Egg In It Is Recommended—Pasteurize Everything for First Month.

A good feed for newly hatched chickens is corn bread with egg in it. Until they are a month old, everything fed to them should be cooked or pasteurized (baked a little in the oven) to kill all germs of disease, and if milk is used for moistening bread crumbs, it is best to boil it.

What's More, It Has Two of Them. Little Eva lived in Brooklyn. When her father told her he would take her on a trip up the river she was delighted, she had heard so much about the beautiful Hudson. As they were nearing New York on their return he asked her what she thought of it. She replied, "Why, papa, I think the river is just like any other river, but the sides are pretty."—Christian Herald.

TAXPAYERS' ASSOCIATION
TO HIGHWAY COMMISSIONAugust 15, 1917.
State Highway Commission,
Madison, Wisconsin.Gentlemen:—
Your communication of the 3rd
inst., addressed to this Association
in reply to our letter of July 30,
has been received and contents carefully noted.We realize the justice of your statement that it is of little value to make comparisons of cost in the matter of road construction, where conditions are not known, and we recognize the value of the old maxim "that comparisons are odious"
and if you can suggest any other way in which the taxpayers
can find out whether the roads built under the supervision of your commission are costing the taxpayers more than they should cost, we would be glad to have you do so.We have not made comparisons of costs of road building in the several counties without investigation and a general knowledge of conditions, and having this knowledge,
we believe the comparisons we have made are reasonably accurate and the discrepancy is sufficiently large to justify the investigation which the taxpayers have asked from your department.In making up the figures of costs of constructing roads, as they appear in our letter of July 30, we have made up those figures from the published reports of the different County Highway Commissioners and have assumed that those reports are accurate and correct.In Oneida County we have taken the total amount reported by the Commissioner as having been expended for construction and maintenance in 1916 viz. $63,168.72
and have added thereto cost of supervision as reported by him, viz.
$2687.67—making the total amount expended $70,856.39 from which we have deducted $2770.87 reported by the Commissioner as having been expended for maintenance,
leaving the amount expended for construction, or total cost of construction for 1916, $68,085.52. The Commissioner reports that he constructed 27.78 miles of road in this County in 1916, and dividing the total cost of construction by the above number of miles, it results
that the roads constructed in 1916, cost the taxpayers $2450.81 per mile.We have used exactly the same formula in computing the cost per mile in each of the adjoining counties, and we are unable to see why this is not a correct method of getting at the actual cost. If we are in error in this we should be glad to be enlightened.In this connection we would be glad to know why the figures reported by the County Commissioner are so widely different from the figures which you report from your department.Your blue-print shows that the total cost of road construction in this county for 1916, was only $1595.00 per mile, which shows an apparent discrepancy of $855.88 per mile between your records and the published report of the County Commissioner—or a total expenditure of $23,776.34 more than appears from your tabulated statement, upon the blue print before mentioned.We have not overlooked the fact that you have excluded from your statement surfacing, and cost of engineering and county and statesupervision—but you say in your letter that none of the counties represented have done any but a small amount of surfacing.Can it be possible that the discrepancy of $855.88 per mile is chargeable to engineering and state and county supervision?If such is the case, it certainly makes our request for an investigation most imperative. If it is not the case, what is the explanation?
Can your department reconcile these figures?Returning again to the subject of comparisons, and taking your figures to be true, then there is an unexplainable difference between the cost of construction of roads in this county and the adjoining county of Vilas. Your figures show the cost in Vilas county to have been $814.00 per mile and in this county $1595.00, a difference in favor of Vilas county of $814.00 per mile. Many of the people of this county are familiar with the roads in Vilas county and travel over them frequently and their verdict almost without exception is to the effect that Vilas county roads are much superior to the roads in this county—some go as far as to say that ours are "fote roads" in comparison; the general conditions in the two counties as to surface, soil,
labor and material are practically
the same, in fact the conditions
rather favor this county in the fact that practically all of the State Aid Highways in this county have been constructed upon the foundation of old roads which have been travelled for years, and require but little clearing and grubbing, while many of the Vilas county roads are cut out through timber of considerable size.Under the conditions existing in these two counties as we know them, we are unable to account for the discrepancy upon any theory
other than mismanagement.You suggest in your letter that it would be helpful if this association would bid on several pieces of Oneida county road work and actually perform them. This suggestion would have some weight were we, or the public generally, given an opportunity to bid on even one piece of work. If your department knows of a single advertisement published in any newspaper, local or otherwise, of the letting of any contract for road work in this county, or calling for bids on the same, at any time within the past two years, we would be glad to be referred to such a notice. We have failed to see one. It appears from the report of the County Commissioner, as published, that there were some twenty-three different pieces of work done in this county in 1916, and that only six of these pieces of work were done under contract. If there were more contracts the report fails to show it.There were plenty of foremen however, the report showing as high as four on the Rhinelander-Eagle River and Three Lakes road. May we not be justified in assuming that some of the large expense of which we complain, is chargeable to the fact that so little of the road work for 1916 was done under contract?This Association is not seeking a controversy with your Commission
or with the local road authorities,
we are simply seeking a reformation in the matter of road cost. Alarge body of the taxpayers of this county represented by this Association, and paying more than one half of the annual county tax, are convinced that by mismanagement and extravagance the roads in this county are costing the people nearly double what they ought to cost,
and what they would cost under conservative business management.We are not attempting to attribute the mismanagement to your department, or to any department
—but are stating the facts as we find them, in the published reports
—and asking that a thorough investigation be made.It is not enough to sit back and say comparisons are worthless,
that you have every confidence in your division engineer or that you believe on the whole, that the county state aid road and bridge committee and the county Highway Commissioner of Oneida county have earned over an completed road adequate value for the money expended.These are platitudes that fail to satisfy the people who are compelled to pay the bills. They ask for facts and figures that will convince them they are wrong, if they are wrong, and until they get these they will continue to feel that your department is not doing its duty,
if you refuse to locate the trouble
and remove the cause.Yours respectfully,
ONEIDA CO. TAXPAYERS ASS'N.

NEWSY NOTES OF NEARBY TOWNS

Gladstone—

William Deusterhoeft, 45 years old, Hermansville farmer now under sentence of from three to fifteen years for the killing of Louis Passeau, of Hermansville, has applied for a parole from Marquette prison. The crime for which Deusterhoeft was charged was committed in a saloon at Hermansville in the heat of an argument over the war while both men were drinking.
Deusterhoeft, who is German, became incensed over some remarks
made by Passeau, of French descent,
and a quarrel ensued, in which Passeau was shot. Deusterhoeft entered a plea of guilty before Judge Flannigan. Deusterhoeft is married and has eight children, and because the killing was done without premeditation and in the heat of passion, he has asked to be paroled on account of his family, and be allowed to return to Hermansville to work on his farm.

Stevens Point—
A large addition to the plant of the Wisconsin Paper & Pulp Company was announced by Chas.
A. Babcock, of Neenah, president and principal owner of the company. An extension 68x112 feet, the full height of the mill, will be built on the north end. It will be used as a finishing room, stock room and new offices. Mr. Babcock also said
there would be a general revamping
and rebuilding of their apartment houses. Work is to begin almost immediately. It is desired to have it completed as soon as possible as the present business is so large as to crowd the facilities of the plant and indications favor continued steady development. The need for more room has impelled the management to build at a time when prices of materials and of labor are at the top, it being the view of the company that it is profitable to provide the additional capacity even at present prices, in order to handle the increasing business available to the corporations.

Hurley—William Weiner, a member of the new militia company at Mellen, was found on Monday after having been absent from his company for ten days. He was working at Camp
No. 9 of the Drummond Lumber
Co. Over a week ago Weiner left Mellen on a motorcycle in company with a fellow named Rocko and when he failed to return within a few days Captain McDonald of the Mellen company started a search for him and spent some time in the woods near Mellen looking for the young man. It is probable that Weiner will receive a term at Ft.
Leavenworth, for under the law
one who deserts the army and stays absent for more than nine days shall receive a prison sentence.
Weiner is now in the company
guard house at Mellen.

Park Falls—
On Thursday of this week one of the lower limbs of a human body
was discovered in the Flambeau river near the lower dam. From the shoe and other parts of clothing which remained it was identified as a portion of the body of Robert Leitl who was drowned at the upper dam on Easter Sunday, April 23rd, 1916, and whose body was never recovered.

Ironwood—
Mrs. Josephine Mosal, the Jessie-ville young woman who was shot
by her uncle Victor Gerka on Wednesday of last week, died at the Newport hospital in Ironwood
on Wednesday morning of her wounds. Mrs. Mosal, who was formerly Josephine Vlah, came to Iron-

Gerka, her uncle. On August 8th
she was married to Joseph Mosal
and when the news of her marriage reached Gerka he became enraged
and sought a quarrel with the girl.
She laughed at him and it is allegedly struck him. Angered, Gerka hastened to a hardware store and purchased a revolver and returning to the house fired the contents of the gun at the girl. Four of the shots took effect, one striking her on the head, one entering her right cheek,
one striking her on the left arm
and one entering the small of her back on the right side. Gerka was arraigned on the charge of first degree murder on Wednesday, pleaded not guilty and was bound over to circuit court for trial.

GIVE YOUR CHILD A CHANCE!

When a child has bad eyes and is sent to school to compete with a neighbors child, who has good eyes, without procuring pro-

It is handicapped to begin with. Possibly censured for being

DAIRY FACTS

GIVE COW NUTRITIOUS FEEDS

Pennsylvania Experiment Station Recommends Decrease in Silage in Drying-Off Process.

For a considerable period before the dairy cow is due to freshen it is best to feed highly nutritious feeds. About 60 days before the time for parturition the cow should be dried off. It is necessary that this be done carefully, as old milk left in the udder may lead to garget or other ills.

For the drying-off process the Pennsylvania experiment station recommends decreasing the silage to about 20 pounds and the grain to four pounds daily. No change is necessary in the amount of hay fed. After the cow is dry the grain ration is resumed and the amount of grain increased gradually until the week just previous to freshening.

The grain ration ought to be laxative in character, highly nutritious and palatable. During the last week the cow should be placed in a box stall and her grain lessened. Equal parts of wheat bran and ground oats or chop with alfalfa hay and mangels is recommended as a good ration to feed at this time.

After parturition the cow should not be milked until the second day, except by the calf, unless, as is the practice of some dairymen, the calf is removed at once. For several days the cow should be allowed only tepid water. For feed, good clover hay, mangels and bran and oats are probably best until her system becomes normal again. By the third day the cow may be returned to her stall.

KEEP DAIRY PRODUCTS COLD

Special Precautions Should Be Taken to Cool Milk After Being Drawn and Then Kept So.

Milk and cream are perishable products and every possible precaution should be taken at the farm and in the home to keep these products wholesome. In the fall with the cooler weather, there exists an opinion that ice or other methods of cooling milk and cream is unnecessary to have these products remain sweet in cold weather, says Prof. V. R. Jones of the South Dakota department of dairy husbandry. This is a false assumption. Special precautions to see that these dairy products are cooled immediately after drawn and kept cold until delivery are important.

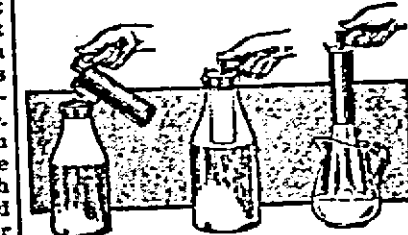

Milk and cream will contain germs or (lactic acid) bacteria no matter how careful we are in its production. The bacteria that cause milk to sour multiply very rapidly at moderately high temperatures (70-80 degrees F.). If the milk or cream is cooled to 50 degrees F. or less, the growth of these germs is held in check and these food products remain sweet for a longer period.

If the dairy farmer does his duty in properly cooling milk and cream at the farm, either with ice or cold running water, and the same precautions are taken in the home, there will be less trouble with sour milk and cream.

REMOVE CREAM FROM BOTTLE

Simple Utensil With Which Cream May Be Taken From Milk Bottle Without Mixing Milk.

A utensil for removing cream from a milk bottle consists of a cylinder about half the length of a quart bottle and of a diameter slightly less than that of the mouth of the ordinary milk container. The device is held in one hand, the index finger passing through a small loop handle at the upper end. Projecting from the otherwise closed

Cream Separator.

upper end of the cylinder is a small tube. A screen extends across the cylinder's lower end. After inserting the separator into the bottle to the depth of the cream, the thumb is placed over the end of the tube. The separator may now be lifted from the bottle filled with cream, the screen and suction combining to keep the fluid from flowing downward.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

CLEANLINESS OF CALF PENS

Use Abundance of Nice Straw and Dig Out All Manure Frequently—Calves Are Frisky.

The calf pen must be kept clean. Use lots of nice straw, not putting it upon a lot of fermented filth, but dig out all manure very frequently and add fresh straw almost daily. Calves are so frisky that they tramp the straw into the manure to beat every thing.

Separator milk, tender clover or alfalfa hay, bran, oil meal, silage, shelled corn, such feeds are the stuff good calves are made of.

FARM STOCK

HOGS DIFFICULT TO CONTROL

When Animal Once Acquires Habit of Getting Out of Pasture He Is Hard to Restrain.

When a hog once gets the habit of getting out of its yard, pasture or whatever its inclosure may be, it is one of the most difficult animals to control. You can stop a breachy horse or cow if you build a fence high enough, but a hog goes through. If there is no hole in the fence it makes one. Of course if the fence was so tight at first that the hog could not get through, it won't bother you the second and forty-ninth time.

Insufficient or irregular feeding, or failing to supply something which the animals crave in the feed makes hogs restless and ready to take the first chance of exploring the outside world in hopes of finding what they failed to find in their troughs.

It saves time and patience to keep them contented and at home.

TREATING HOGS WITH WORMS

Prescription Given for Pig Weighing About 100 Pounds—Give Salt, Sulphur and Charcoal.

To expel worms from hogs the following prescription is right for a pig weighing about 100 pounds: Santonin, five grains; calomel, two grains; areca nut, two grains; sodium bicarbonate, one dram. Keep the hogs off feed for about 12 hours and give the dose in a slop of middlings. The evening of the same day give a mash of wheat bran. This will flush the bowels. Gather all worms and burn them. Worms often are the forerunner of disease.

If a hog or pig has a big appetite and thrifty condition, with dry dead hair, it is a good indication of the presence of worms.

Salt and sulphur and charcoal should be kept in every pigpen and pig yard so the pigs can help themselves.

This is a corrective and a preventive of worms.

COLTS RESPOND TO FEEDING

Size of Animal Determined First Winter After Weaning—Aim to Build Up Big Frame.

No farm animal will pay more for abundant feeding than the colt. The first winter after weaning, the ultimate size of the colt is largely determined. We understand that the French Percheron breeders feed as much as ten pounds daily of bran and oats to their weanling colts.

The object of feeding the weanling colt is to induce the formation of a big frame, with heavy muscling. Our aim is not fat. Therefore, we prefer to feed some bran, oil meal, and oats in connection with corn. For this reason, also, we prefer a good quality of clover or alfalfa hay to timothy hay. In connection with timothy or corn stover, we would feed a mixture of five parts of corn, three parts of oats, three parts of bran, and two parts of oil meal; while in connection with good clover or alfalfa hay, we would make the mixture five parts of corn, three parts of oats, two parts of bran, and one part of oil meal.

To a colt of draft ancestry, designed for market, we would feed at least five pounds of such a mixture the first winter, and, as the winter wears on, we might increase to seven or even ten pounds.—Wallace's Farmer.

FEEDING ALFALFA TO SWINE

Some Arrangement Ought to Be Made to Prevent Hogs From Dragging Hay Around Underfoot.

In feeding alfalfa hay to hogs some arrangement must be provided to prevent them wasting the feed by dragging it around underfoot. A rack with ends boarded up solid and slides made with upright two-by-fours far enough apart for the hog to pull the hay through will prevent waste. It should be made light enough so it can be easily moved by hand to avoid having the hogs always eat at the same place. Quite a broad bottom will be necessary or the rack will get tipped over too often for the owner's serenity of mind.

WOMEN NOT MOST GARRULOUS

Writer Calls Attention to Truth Which Is an Indictment of the Sterner Sex.

We men are accustomed to deride the garrulosity of women; yet I doubt if any women under the sun could compete in loquacity with a pair or trio or quartet of young men engaged in the exchange of views on metaphysics, literature or art. We two or three or four spent ambrosial nights, Robert M. Gray writes in the Atlantic. There were no problems too knotty, no reaches of hypothesis too vast for us to attempt.

That was a time of life to remember, when the mind was growing like corn in hot weather. It is a pleasant thought that all over the land there are little bands of youths doing as we did. I get wind of one now and then—some boy with all the fire and foolishness, some girl with all the sensibility and sentimentalities, by a chance look or word carries me back, as a whiff of lilacs or muguet can transport us into our childhood.

He is a poor man who never was foolish. It is appalling to think over what he has missed. I am glad that there was a time when I was omniscient; that there was a time when an opinion was attractive because it was radical, and the "miserable little virtue of prudence" was not a part of my moral code. I think it makes me more charitable toward youth. Whether it does or not, there can be no doubt that the surest corrective and sweetener of life is a vivid memory.

WORLD OWES MUCH TO WATT

Scotsman the First to Realize and Make Practical the Wonderful Power of Steam.

"Science took a tear from the cheek of unpaid labor, converted it into steam and created a giant which turns with tireless arms the countless wheels of toil."

Thus Ingersoll's poetic explanation of the origin of the transformation of pent-up steam into controlled and industrially valuable mechanical action. Elaborated in a more prosaic manner, James Watt, a young Scotchman of Glasgow, and an instrument maker by trade, once had an idea. It was a most revolutionary idea. Men had been working on steam engines for many centuries, but they had produced nothing of any practical value. In the engines of that period steam was admitted into only one end of the cylinder, and about the only use such an engine had was to pump water. And it wasn't very good at that. As for using an engine to turn a wheel—why, nobody had thought of that. It simply wasn't being done. But James did it. He let steam into both ends of the cylinder instead of only one, put a fly-wheel on the end of a shaft and a crank on the other, and there was the steam engine, all ready for its real business.

Watt was born in Greenock, Scotland, on January 19, 1733, his father being a builder, contractor and merchant.

HORSES PIGS and CATTLE

CORN, OATS, WHEAT FOR FEED

Interesting Experiment at Wisconsin Experiment Station With Three Lots of Heifers.

In an experiment at the Wisconsin experiment station three lots of heifers weighing about 350 pounds were fed equal amounts of nutrients. For one lot the nutrients were wholly from the wheat plant, another from oats and the third from corn. All lots grew at about a normal rate, but after a few months it became easily observable that the wheat lot was not so well nourished as the others. This was evident from the appearance of the coat. The corn and oat-fed lots bred earlier than the wheat fed one, showing that the latter were depressed in some degree. The corn-fed lot produced calves which were of normal size and full of vigor. The oat-fed lot produced calves which were of about normal size but with very low vigor, while those from the wheat lot were about half as large as the normal calf at birth and were dead or ready to die when born. When half of the roughage of the wheat lot was replaced with alfalfa hay, the calves were normal.

No reasons have yet been worked out as to why these foods should act so differently but it is important to know how they affect animals.

TREATING AN IRRITATED EYE

Bathe Affected Organ With Ten Per Cent Solution of Boric Acid—Slightly Darken Barn.

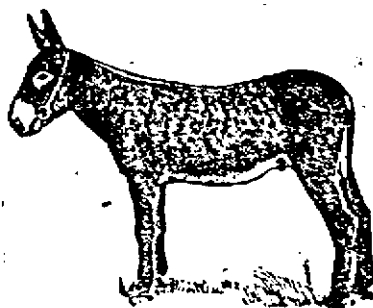

When the eye of an animal is irritated and watery bathe it with a ten per cent solution of boric acid twice daily, using a new swab of absorbent cotton each time. Slightly darken the stable. Wet all feed to prevent dust, and as far as possible keep the animal out of dust.

It may be that the tear ducts are obstructed, and if so they should be cleaned by a competent veterinarian.

FEEDING HORSES AND MULES

As Result of Experiment It Has Been Found That Silage Can Be Used as Hay Substitute.

During an experiment which began December 1914 and ended March 1915, in which 20 horses and mules were used in the effort to find out the effects of silage as food, the following results were obtained. The results indicate that silage can be successfully substituted for a part of the hay in the ration of horses at the rate of two pounds of silage for one pound of hay. The animals studied included draft horses and mules, saddle mares, draft and saddle foals, two-year-old fillies and three-year-old geldings divided into pairs. Each animal received the same grain ration consisting of corn two parts, oats two parts, bran one part. One of the animals in each pair of the growing and idle horses received alfalfa hay as its roughage, part of which was fed at night and part in the morning. The other animal in each pair received alfalfa hay in the morning and corn silage at night. The draft animals at work were fed the same except that timothy hay was used instead of alfalfa. Some difficulty was experienced in getting the animals that had been on dry feed previous to the test to eat the silage. With two exceptions the animals receiving silage were in a more thrifty condition at the end of the trial. The silage-fed mule was kept in better condition as shown by the hair, skin and general appearance, and yet cost less to feed than a mule which received no silage.

FEEDING SKIM MILK TO PIGS

Younger and Smaller the Animals the More Valuable Is the Milk—Feed Mixed With Grain.

Skim milk that is not from tubercular cows is a valuable pig feed. The best way to feed it is three pounds of skim milk to one pound of grain. Fed in this proportion skim milk has secured all the way from 31 to 40 cents per hundred pounds.

The younger and smaller the pigs are the more valuable is the milk. It should always be mixed with grain in the proportion given.

Meet your friends at Oneida County Fair, Sept. 4, 5 and 6.

WINTER CARE OF EWE FLOCK

Of Great Importance in Insuring Lamb Crop in Spring—Feed Clover or Alfalfa Hay.

The winter care of the flock is important to insure a lamb crop to be harvested in the spring. Ewes in good condition need not be fed grain until about a month before lambing, when they should gradually be accustomed to it. Ewes in thin or poor condition should receive from one-fourth to one-half pound of grain daily. Corn alone is not the best grain ration. A ration of six parts corn, three parts wheat bran, and one part linseed oil cake, by weight, has proved very satisfactory. A ration of corn, oats, and bran, equal parts by weight, can also be recommended.

The sheep should receive as much clover or alfalfa hay as they will eat.

Sheep in Winter Quarters.

The amount of hay eaten can be cut down by the use of corn silage or corn stover. Two pounds of clean, sweet corn silage can be used to replace about one pound of hay. Well cured corn stover is also relished by the ewes. Ordinarily, there is little danger of the sheep eating too much of it, if the hay is fed once a day. The greatest danger of corn stover comes from making it the exclusive feed. Clean salt and water should be kept before the flock. Sheep should always have a dry, well bedded floor to lie on. —Ohio State Bulletin.

FEEDING SWINE OR VERMIN?

Coal-Tar Solution as Dip or Spray Is Recommended for Treatment—Some Other Remedies.

It has been estimated that a 150-pound hog has 92,000 drops of blood. If the hog is supporting 1,000 lice and each louse takes one drop of blood per day, what per cent of the hog's blood will be lost daily, and who will pay the bill?

Using a coal-tar solution (1 per cent) as a dip or a spray, is recommended for treatment, but there are other mixtures equally effective. These are: 1, equal parts kerosene and machine oil mixed together and applied with an oil can, brush or swab; 2, crude oil (thinned with kerosene if too thick) applied with a brush or as a spray. Crude oil applied to the backs of the hogs slowly works over the greater part of the hog's body, but should be applied to the ears and both flanks.

CORN AND LIVE STOCK FARM

Former Produces More Feed Per Acre Than Any Other Crop for Cattle Except Alfalfa.

Corn and live stock farming go hand in hand. The great corn-growing sections are also the great live stock sections. Corn produces more feed per acre than any other crop except alfalfa. It should be fed with alfalfa, as these two feeds make a balanced ration.

Stock relish corn and corn fodder whether cured in the field or in the silo. This grain is unequaled in beef and pork production. The meat produced from it is of a firm consistency.

SCIENCE IN FEEDING CATTLE

Farmer Who Sells Half-Grown Feeders for Someone Else to "Finish" Is Losing Money.

The cattleman who fattens his animals "from birth to block" has a much better chance of satisfactory returns than he who sells half-grown feeders for someone else to "finish" for marketing.

The latter turns over to the stockyard men, to feeders and the railroads a very large share of the profits which might have been his.

BOYS AND GIRLS' CAMP AGAIN A BIG STATE FAIR FEATURE

Boys Band of Fifty of Beloit Will Be Assigned Entirely to This Department—Over 30,000 Children to Sing "The Star Spangled Banner" on the Opening Day, Sept. 10.

Milwaukee, Aug. 20. — Under direction of Professor Thomas L. Bewick of University of Wisconsin, who also is Uncle Sam's representative in this work in Wisconsin, the Wisconsin State Fair established an agricultural Boys and Girls' department in 1915, and this department is destined to be one of the strongest factors of the great annual exposition.

During 1915 and 1916 the Badger State farm boys and girls showed great interest in the competitions and demonstrations of this department, and their interest this year indicates a record showing.

Under direction of W. H. Wones, Y. M. C. A. state leader of the boys' work, and the Y. W. C. A., the camp established last year will be continued. Boys and girls are taken care of here during the entire week under ideal conditions. They eat and sleep under canvas and, in addition to the benefits they receive from the work of their department, enjoy a week's outing.

Assigned to this department will be the famous Boys' Band of Beloit of fifty young musicians. This band will head all of the many parades of farm boys and girls during the night fair. Professor Bewick has planned a mammoth program, showing the advance of agriculture in Wisconsin, and it will be presented entirely by boys and girls, probably on Monday, which is Children's Day.

One of the big features of Children's Day—there were 52,000 school children on the grounds on this day last year—

GERTSON A SOLDIER BOY.

Louis Gertson, the birdman who will thrill the State Fair crowds with loops and other stunts, is one of Uncle Sam's flyers. His machine is a brand new military plane.

will be the stinging of "The Star Spangled Banner," led by the Boys and Girls' Department and all of the bands and orchestras on the grounds.

Farm boys and girls show many calves, pigs and poultry in their competitions. One immense barn will be devoted to the live stock and poultry of this department.

FARM STOCK

WINTER QUARTERS FOR SOWS

Necessary That Animal Have Suitable Shelter, Proper Amount of Exercise and Good Feed.

(By B. L. THOMPSON, Associate in Animal Husbandry, South Dakota State College.)

If the sow is to be properly cared for during the winter months it is necessary that she have suitable shelter, a proper amount of exercise and that she be fed not only liberally but upon feeds that furnish the necessary nutrients required by the pregnant sow.

Suitable shelter can be supplied by hoghouses of various types and the style of house used will depend upon the conditions existing upon any certain farm. Whatever kind of house is used it should be well ventilated, dry and well lighted. Portable houses may be used advantageously part of the year, but at farrowing time a well-planned and well-built permanent structure is needed.

Personally, I prefer a house with the semimonitor type of roof and one of sufficient width for two rows of pens with a feed alley between them. The length will depend upon the number of sows that are to be housed in it. The pitch of the roof should be such that the sun's rays will fall upon the north row of pens during the middle of the day. Of course this type of house should always face the south. In a building of this sort it is much easier to care for the sows than it is when small individual houses are used. Especially is this true at the farrowing time as one man can properly look after a much larger number of sows than when they are scattered about in a number of different small houses.

DOCTOR SHEEP WITH WORMS

Drenching With Copper Sulphate Is Recommended by Animal Husbandmen at Ohio Station.

Stomach worms and tapeworms, which cause enormous losses to sheep raisers each year, may be treated satisfactorily by drenching with copper sulphate, according to animal husbandmen at the Ohio experiment station. Digestive disturbances, malnutrition and general weakness are symptoms of these pests in sheep.

For 8 to 20 hours before treatment the sheep are fasted. They are then drenched with a bottle or with a rubber tube and funnel. Two fluid ounces of a solution made by dissolving an ounce of copper sulphate (blue vitriol) in two quarts of water is sufficient for a yearling, while a two-year-old sheep requires three fluid ounces.

CLOVER AND ALFALFA VALUE

When both roughages were of equal quantity, clover and alfalfa had about equal values for fattening lambs in feeding tests at the Ohio experiment station.

Alfalfa usually is harvested in better condition than clover, and commands a higher price on the market. The results of these feeding tests justify a warning to feeders not to overvalue alfalfa to the extent of feeding an inferior grade of this hay when good clover may be had at a lower price.—Ohio Experiment Station.

DO NOT MIND COLD WEATHER

Exercise Is Essential to Ewes and Coming Lambs—Provide Plenty of Clean Fresh Water.

Sheep do not mind cold when there is no draft, and the cold is dry and light.

Do not crowd the flock. Exercise is very essential to the ewes and the coming lambs.

Feed regularly, and be quiet and kind to the flock. Sheep appreciate a kind, well-modulated voice.

Provide for plenty of clean fresh water in the sheep barn. Give it fresh every day.

STATE FAIR IS OPEN AT NIGHT; TO GIVE FIVE MAMMOTH SHOWS

Gordon's $10,000 War Spectacle in Fireworks, Bird Man Gertson Looping-the-Loop, Twenty-two Vaudeville and Circus Acts and Parades Will Be Seen.
Four Bands Will Be Heard Each Night.

Milwaukee, Aug. 27. — During five nights of State Fair week, Sept. 10 to 15, beginning Monday night, the State Fair will not only be a city of light, but each night a mammoth program of entertainment equal to any to be seen in America this year will be presented.

An idea of the magnitude of the program each night may be obtained when it is said that there will be twenty-two acts by the highest class vaudeville and circus performers—Louis Gertson, daring aviator, looping the loop with his machine a blaze of light;
half a dozen parades passing the grand stand while other entertainment goes on; four bands playing at one time, the whole to conclude with the $10,000 Gordon's War Spectacle in fireworks, including 200 people.

To handle the acts alone requires a corps of twenty-four trained stage hands.

Lighting in front of the grand stand to enable performers to present their acts and the crowds to see alone costs
$1,200 for the five nights.

The general admission at night will be 25 cents.

The aim in presenting the mammoth show each night will be to conclude so that crowds may be on their way downtown at 10:30 o'clock. Each night's show will open with a display
of the largest American flag ever seen,
while the crowds sing a patriotic air,
led by the bands.

The entire fair will be open and running full blast each night until 10:30 o'clock, so that the special entertainment is provided for those who have spent the day among the exhibits and have waited until night for rest and recreation.

All who saw the tremendous program given the night of Milwaukee
Day last year will have a keen appreciation of what is in store each night
this year.

Ruth Law's amazing feats in the air
last year will be excelled by the intrepid Gertson, who will use a brand new military aeroplane.

Gertson is one of Uncle Sam's star fliers.

THE CRIMINAL

(Contributed to the New North)

A true story of Northern Wisconsin.
There is a certain class of people in Kentucky who, after committing a crime punishable by law,
come to Wisconsin to escape conviction. They settle in groups and here they usually practice their former methods of law breaking.
Not all the families in these settlements are people of this nature but the majority are.

A family of this rough type, the father of which had come to Wisconsin after killing a neighbor in Kentucky, resided about two miles from a certain village. Gradually their number increased until quite an assembly had gathered. A brother of the father came to live at this location and it is supposed that he, too, escaped punishment for a crime.

A public dance was given at the village and the brother (we'll call him Pete) attended or rather lounged out side of the hall. After indulging in alcohol for several hours
he became very quarrelsome and intentionally provoked a quarrel with a young man named Mr. Truce who was attending the dance. However, Mr. Truce, paid no attention to the intoxicated man's insults, a fact which made the insulter very angry.

It chanced that Mr. Truce stepped out of the hall and for some reason which is not clearly known,
he walked toward the depot, probably to investigate as to what time the train would arrive. When Mr. Truce approached the very dark depot corner, the intoxicated Kentuckian stepped out from the shadow.

No one knows exactly what followed but Mr. Truce picked up a stick for protection, a weapon of very little value when the other man possessed a gun.

A shot was heard and the people
rushed forth to see, to their horror, Mr. Truce stretched upon the ground, stick in hand, his fine features drawn into a hideous grimace and his white shirt soaked with blood. The criminal had aimed to kill, and accomplished his purpose.

Of course he escaped to the settlement two miles away and as he was well protected by his relations
no one attempted to seize him.
When the town people learned of his departure and knowing all attempts to capture him in that community would be in vain, they quickly published rewards for his arrest and made quite a fuss. This manner of procedure kept up until the criminal returned to his family, then everything was hushed as anyone might be shot who dared go after him.

Sheriffs, lawyers and constables
of the county seat were appealed to and they traced him every direction except where they knew he actually was. All knew that to approach his home meant death as every man at this settlement bore arms and whoever went that way in nocent or not would be fired upon.

The case was mysteriously dropped and today if it were mentioned to any of the attorneys of the city
they would scowl, beat around the bush and then slyly change the subject.

Where is the criminal? He still lives and is much more at ease than any one who dares condemn him.

POULTRY

WINTER TONIC FOR POULTRY

Beets, Silage and Alfalfa Produce Satisfactory Results—Cabbage Also Is Excellent.

Succulent feed should be given to chickens in winter, because of its value
as a tonic, asserts H. M. Sherwood, acting head of the department of poultry husbandry in the Kansas state agricultural college.

"Beets, silage, and alfalfa may be obtained on most farms," said Mr.
Sherwood. "Alfalfa leaves soaked in sour milk are of great value. The milk softens the leaves, and also furnishes valuable food nutrients. It is well for the farmer to plant winter wheat or rye near his chicken house."

Cabbage is excellent as a green feed,
in the opinion of Mr. Sherwood. Some persons feed turnips, potatoes, and even apples. Sprouted oats are often used for succulence, but it is not desirable that the sprouting be done in the house because of the offensive odor given off. This necessitates the use of a special sprouter with heater, and adds materially to the cost of the feed.

REPAIRS FOR THE INCUBATOR

Time to Get Machine Into Working Order—Removable Parts Should Be Thoroughly Cleaned.

(By C. E. BROWN, Poultryman, Northwest Experiment Station)

In a few days many incubators will be in operation. Whether the chicks are to be hatched early in March or not until the middle of April, it is time to look after repairs and to get the machine—in shape. Repairs for the incubator may not be readily found.

If the incubator was neglected at the close of last season, it should be thoroughly cleaned. Removable parts should be taken out and washed and the entire machine should be aired and sun-dried. A 10 per cent solution of zeonolium should be used as a disinfectant in washing the interior of the machine.

PREPARE GEESSE FOR MARKET

Use Slender-Bladed Sharp Knife, Making Cut Well Back in Order to Induce Free Bleeding.

When the birds are thoroughly fat and plump, geese may be killed in the following manner: Hang by the feet,
back to the wall and insert a long slender-bladed, sharp knife into the roof of the mouth. The cut should be made well back in order to induce free bleeding. It is difficult to drip-kill a fat bird without tearing the skin. A better way is to loosen the feathers
by scalding or steaming.

A good way is to make a small platform of laths and place it in the bottom of a barrel so that the platform
will be about 4 inches above the water.
Pour into the barrel boiling water until it comes within about an inch of the platform. Lay the goose on the platform, cover the barrel tightly with a heavy piece of carpet or cloth and allow it to steam for five or six minutes.

Before placing the bird in the barrel, tie a stout string to its feet, leaving one end hanging outside by which

Well-Bred Toulouse Geese.

the bird may be drawn out and suspended at a convenient height for pickling. Have a large bag or barrel near into which the feathers may be placed as they are picked. Care must be taken that the feathers are not soiled by blood or dirt as they will lose their value.

After the meat is thoroughly cleaned

up in cold water and allow it to remain two or three minutes. Leave feathers on about half the neck next to the head and also on the wings above the first joint. Geese should be marketed with the heads on and un-drawn. Do not lay one bird upon another when picked but wrap each in a clean cloth or paper, place it on its back and allow it to cool in that form.
Never hang a bird up by the feet or head to cool as this destroys their plump appearance.

CRACKED CORN IS CHEAPEST

Fowls Get Enough Benefit From Picking Up Small Pieces to More Than Pay for Cracking.

Cracked corn is cheaper as a chicken feed than is whole corn. That is, the chickens will get enough benefit
over whole corn, from the exercise required to fill their crops with an evening meal of cracked corn, to more than pay for the cracking. A sieve should be used to sift the fine portion of the corn for making mash.

The poultry breeder should not try to save by limiting the amount of food,
but by avoiding waste of food.

Kill off the rats and mice which destroy an enormous amount of grain.

Feed in clean litter. If there is any mash left after feeding, scrape it into a bucket for the next day's feed.

CLEANLINESS IN DAIRY BARN

Two Hours Should Elnapse After Feeding, Bedding or Brushing Before Milking Is Begun.

Feeding, bedding or brushing up should never take place within two hours before milking. The dust raised by these operations takes a long time to settle, and if these operations are conducted shortly before milking, a very considerable quantity will of necessity find its way into the milk cans
and pails.

For this reason, also, uncovered cans and pails, with or without milk in them, should never be left standing in the barn, but should be removed to the milkhouse where the air is clean.

Autos That Pass In Air Will Be Seen As Thriller at Wisconsin State Fair

DAREDEVIL GREGGS SHOWN PASSING IN AIR.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 29.—The Daredevil Greggs, one looping the loop in an auto while the other in an auto passes beneath, will be seen day and night at the Wisconsin State Fair, Sept. 10 to 15. This is the most thrilling act to be seen anywhere in the world today.

PRAISES ONEIDA FOR PROGRESS

In an effort to induce the county board of Winnebago county to employ a county agricultural representative, the Winnebago Local praises Oneida county for its progress in the following editorial:

Unity begets progress. Progress begets prosperity. Rhinelander, the county seat of Oneida county, is one of the northern radiant lights which shines out welcome and progress to the farmer. Now, young blood going into the northern territory is possessed with the advantage of this unity of going ahead with the times—not lagging back because the world will allow procrastination, which begets doing no more than just what the prescription reads. Doing a little better than prescribed gets more money for produce and land—just as doing a little better than expected gets anyone's salary raised—increases profits and good will all around.

The county agent has put Oneida county on the map, so the Oneida county farmers say. Men—enterprising farmers—past the age of forty years and many near sixty years—men who had farms all during their lifetime—were members of Oneida county's board. They and their friends did not take as much time to vote to employ a county agent as congress took to passing the food bill. In fact if more farmers were in congress the food bill would have been passed long ago.

Those Oneida county farmers realized that big manufacturers employ supervisors to inspect their manufacturing establishments; all large manufacturers employ such supervisors by the year. Henry Ford employs and pays well more than a dozen factory supervisors to tell him how to do many things. Any farmer can verify the above by writing to Henry Ford.

This is a good time for Winnebago county farmers to look into the matter of a county agent. Your county board meets in September. At present there are two men available. It would be a good time to approach members of the county board advising them to vote to place their application for one of the University men.

OLD STATION AGENT QUILTS

Robert J. Carter, of Rosholt, on August 1 retired as station agent in that village after thirty-three years of active service in the employ of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway. He is nearly seventy years of age. Mr. Carter started as extra agent on the Milwaukee Lake Shore and Western railroad and has worked at the following stations: State Line, Deerbrook, Elmhurst, Eland Jet, Wittenberg, Clintonville, Norrie, Hatley, Elderon and Rosholt. In June 1884 he was stationed at Norrie, where he remained almost 20 years, when he was transferred to Hatley but only on account of sickness. When recovered he took over the Elderon station for a few months before coming to Rosholt.—Antigo Journal.

ONLY CITIZENS GET LICENSES

None but full citizens of the United States can get hunting licenses this year, according to an announcement received by County Clerk Verage from the state conservation commission. Everyone to whom a license is issued must furnish an affidavit because of the foregoing restriction and because of the closed season on partridge and prairie chicken.

FARMERS LIVE LONGEST

Many have left the farm and gone to the city to work and live, because they thought that farm life was too hard, but the fact of the matter, is that farmers have a longer lease of life than any office employees. Their average age being 58.5 years, while office workers die at the average of 36.5 years. There are many few who left the farm in their younger days who wouldn't like to get back or trade with some farmer. And though it seems pretty hard the way the farmer sometimes has to dig and hustle during the season when it is the hottest putting in long hours both early and late, it is with no small amount of satisfaction that they should contemplate their reward in added years. Furthermore, from a business point of view, the farmer is the one man who can make money these days and retain his independence while doing it, a fact that is becoming recognized by the farmers themselves.

LAW SUPPLEMENTS

The New North has a limited number of the 1917 Law Supplements, containing all the new laws enacted by the last legislature. While the supply lasts one of those supplements will be given to any adult who calls for same at this office.

MUST FURNISH FREE CUPS

Attorney General Owen is fully determined that the railroads of the state shall comply with the law requiring the furnishing of free drinking cups on trains. A complaint has been made against the St. Paul road with regard to the matter. The 1913 legislature passed a law requiring free drinking cups on trains. When the matter was brought to the attention of the officials that free cups were not being furnished the reply was made that Wisconsin was the only state in the union that required free drinking cups; that all other states permitted the use of a penny in the slot to obtain a cup and that in Wisconsin the sign that the cups may be obtained from the brakeman is a substantial compliance with the law. Attorney General Owen holds to the contrary, and intends to prosecute unless the new law is complied with.

DIDIER GOING TO FRANCE

The remaining members of the 10th Engineer Corps (Foresters) who have been stationed at Jefferson Barracks, Missouri, have gone to Washington, D. C., from which place it is expected that they will leave with the "Rainbow Division" for somewhere in France. Russell Didier of this city is a member of the engineer corps and expects soon to see service in France.

Seagulls Foretell Weather.

Seagulls are undoubtedly weather prophets. Dwellers on the coast have noticed that when certain winds begin to blow the gulls collect in large flocks and fly to the fields or circle high over the land, screaming all the while uneasily. After such demonstrations it is said that a rainstorm is certain to follow.

STATE FAIR CROWDS TO BEHOLD MANY NEEDED IMPROVEMENTS

View $25,000 Poultry Building, New $25,000 Water and Drainage System, New Wire Fences, Solid Ground Upon Which to Park Free 20,000 Automobiles Among Important Changes Since the 1916 Exposition.

Milwaukee, Sept. 3.—When crowds gather at the great Wisconsin State Fair next week many pleasant surprises await them in the way of improvements.

The fair itself, its entertainment features and its racing programs will be by far the best of its sixty-seven years of history, but that isn't all.

This year a new $25,000 Poultry Building has been built.

The fourteen horse barns have been repaired, re-roofed and painted colonial yellow trimmed with white.

The big Stock Judging Pavilion has been repaired and repainted.

New wire fences have been erected on the western and northern boundaries of the grounds, completing the new fencing.

New fencing added this year exceeds 5,000 feet.

At a cost of $25,000 a new water and drainage system has been installed, one creek having been placed in a concrete flume 1,000 feet long and being entirely invisible.

Many restaurant and concession buildings have been repaired. Streets have been re-covered with crushed stone and oil.

Drainage has been so planned that there is solid ground upon which 20,000 automobiles can be parked free of charge.

Every automobile owner in the state is invited to come to the fair in his car. While he is seeing the fair good care will be taken of his automobile.

Next year the mammoth concrete stand will be given another $70,000 section. There will be seating capacity at popular prices for 12,500 people this year.

The great State Fair is planned this year to be of greater than usual educational value along its many lines of inspirational work, and the entertainment features will not only be numerous, but of the highest class and, above all, clean above reproach.

This year's State Fair will be worth twenty times the admission fee.

ANTIGO COURT LETS WEDGE OFF

Fred Wedge, former evangelist and pastor of the First Baptist church in this city last winter, was in Rhinelander Saturday, coming up from Antigo, where, according to press reports, he was arrested for fighting with a man named Lass. Wedge did not deny having had trouble, but stated that Lass was responsible for the encounter and that he returned the latter's blows in self defense. When arraigned in court, Wedge was discharged while Lass was fined. The Antigo Journal said:

"Charged with disorderly conduct, Fred Wedge and Victor Lass were arraigned in municipal court following a disturbance in an alley to the rear of a downtown saloon. Sentence was suspended on Wedge with the warning that he would be picked up at any time if he did not behave himself. Lass was fined $50 and costs amounting to $8.65 as it was brought out in court that he was the one who struck the first blow and that he had been about town looking for Wedge. Lass had not the money with him to pay the fine and was given an opportunity to get it.

"Fighting Lass staged a boxing match in this city about five years ago with 'Kid' King of Rhinelander."

CRANDON MAN FALLS IN BATTLE

Word has been received here of the death of Delano Duff, a former Crandon young man, at the battle of Vivmaridge, somewhere on the firing line in Europe. Mr. Duff left here in 1916 for Canada where he joined a Canadian regiment and sailed for England in the early spring of 1917. He was killed on the 11th day of April after fighting nine days and was buried there. He leaves a father here, Cokum Duff, and a sister, Mrs. Wm. Hanes. He also has a brother, Courtney Duff, in the Crandon Guards at Camp Douglas. He has other sisters and brothers living in the south.

He was a young man about twenty-two years of age and well liked by all his acquaintances. He is the first Crandon boy to fall fighting for universal peace.—Crandon Republican.

WAR BOARD AIDS IN CAR SHORTAGE

Vigilance on the part of the Railroads' War Board in preventing delay to the movement and re-consignment of freight cars has corrected, to a great extent, the car shortage problem, according to Secretary G. W. Murnane of the Twin City committee on car shortage.

"Due to activities of the railway managers most roads now have cars for present needs," said Mr. Murnane. "The cooperation of shippers has been a great help. With the grain marketing season in the northwest at hand the railway executives will give continued attention to the matter of keeping sufficient freight cars on hand to be ready for quick service."

"Another matter that is absorbing much time of the transportation heads is that of inducing shippers to load freight cars above listed capacity. This will be potent in keeping supplies for government war use moving fast enough to meet requirements."

"At the meeting this week especially discussion was provoked as to impressing upon shippers and receivers the necessity of avoiding delays in loading and unloading freight. 'Make one car do the work of two' is a slogan that must be followed literally to enable the railroads to carry out their plans for helping the United States win in war."

AROUND THE CIRCLE

Mrs. Willis Moore is a guest of Mrs. W. E. Brown in the city this week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pommerening were called to Chicago last week where their little daughter underwent a serious operation.

Rural Carrier A. F. Easton, is taking his annual vacation at present and his substitute Harold Van Horn is "looping the loop" in his stead on Route No. 1 with his "Tin Lis". To say that he goes some is putting it mild as he only hits a few of the highest spots.

Mrs. Thomas Woolney motored to the city last week with some friends who are camping upon the scenic margin of Squash Lake, where they are enjoying their vacation and gathering in a few quarts of raspberries, which are so abundant this season.

The town of Woodboro officials have voted to build two new school houses in their town which are to be completed by the first of November. One is to be built near Camp Ruth and one in the village of Woodboro and the Schrupp district.

E. O. Barstow and family and Rev. Beach and family who have been rusticated upon the beautiful margin of Squash lake have broken camp and hiked to the city.

B. R. Tripp and family have been located at the power house at Hat Rapids for some time where Ben has charge of the improvements that are being made upon dam in the way of re-enforcing same with concrete and otherwise improving the property.

Theo. Ladusire is improving his residence by the addition of a basement and turning his house, facing the public highway.

Stephen Weise has his new residence nearly completed upon the farm recently purchased of Chas. Stinert and when finished it will be a substantial home.

The families of Albert Peterson and W. B. Ames autoed out in the Frank Cole district in quest of raspberries last week. They procured a goodly quantity of same.

Miss Perrault of Rhinelander is visiting her friend, Miss Vera Kettner, at Woodboro.

A little misunderstanding took place among some of Woodboro's most prominent citizens recently whereby each were assessed equally by Judge Smith and told to go their weary way in peace and harmony.

Frank Fisher and brother Joe are doing some necessary repairing to the school house and property in the way of resingling, building a new chimney and otherwise improving same preparatory to the fall term which commences the first week in September.

The contract is about to be let to move the town hall from its present location to one north of the Soo tracks, near the school house.

The new piece of county highway just completed west of the city by road overseer Gross is certainly an improvement over the old road.

Chas. Sackett and family have moved into their new home just west of the city.

Julius Polinski is erecting a fine residence just west of the city and upon the public highway, having torn down a portion of his old place.

PLOW IS MOST ANCIENT TOOL

Has Been Used by Man Since He First Attempted to Make the Earth His Servant.

Three very ancient implements have been used in human industry—the plow, the sword and the pen. Of the three, the oldest is the plow. A history of the development of this agricultural tool would take us back through centuries to the time when man began to subdue the earth and make it his servant. Thousands of plow models are now to be seen in the patent office at Washington. These tell us what has been done by inventors in recent years, but there is a long story back of these plows.

From his study of a Babylon brick, in the museum of the University of Pennsylvania, Doctor Clay concluded that he had found a true picture of the first plow, which was invented by Abraham. For his proof that Abraham was the inventor of the plow, Doctor Clay refers us to the "Book of Jubilees," which was published in the second century B. C. This book says that the Babylonians were punished because they had yielded to Satan, and that the form of their punishment was that the ravens came and ate up the grain they had sowed in the fields. Abraham devised an instrument that should sow the seed in a furrow, in order that it might be covered up so that the birds of the air could not eat it. The apparatus shown on the ancient brick is a sort of combination plow, planter and harrow. It required three men to operate it. When the people sowed according to Abraham's commands, they feared neither the ravens nor the birds. Whatever the value of the story in the "Book of Jubilees," the brick, at least, gives a picture of perhaps the most ancient tool used by man.

"They ship a few cattle and two or three cars of wool."

"Which is it, two or three?" snapped Mr. Harriman. "Which is it? There is a difference of 33 1-3 per cent."

While traveling through the cheerless deserts of Nevada one day with a number of the officials of the Union Pacific, the train passed a little station with much platform, a bleak background of sagebrush and junipers, and no habitation within sight.

"What is that station there for?" asked Mr. Harriman of one of the railway officials with the party.

"They ship a few cattle and two or three cars of wool."

Any fool is a good spender, but it takes a wise man to save money. That there are more fools than wise men is proved by the fact that one-tenth of all the people who die in the United States are buried in pauper's graves.

With a population of 100,000,000 there are 10,000,000 people in the United States who would be hungry in ten days after losing their jobs.

There are 3,000,000 men with steady jobs and little children dependent on them who have not saved enough to feed their own babies for two weeks.

There are 1,000,000 "well-to-do" men who could not pay their debts and have enough left to buy a gallon of gasoline for the automobile they ride in every day.

What is thrift? Industry earns, economy manages, providence plans, and frugality saves. Thrift embraces all these.

Training in thrift should be a part of the curriculum of every school and part of the training of every boy and girl, every man and woman. Thrift of mind, of time, and most of all of money, needs greater emphasis.—Houston (Tex.) Post.

Make Home Happy.

Happy, well-ordered homes are the foundations of society, a solid basis on which to build a state. Homemaking is something beyond and superior to mere housekeeping. It is a high calling. It requires noble traits of character and fine executive ability and real wisdom. The responsibility of the home-making does not devolve on one alone. Every member of the family has his or her share. Friends are dear, strangers have a certain claim on us, but the members of our family are nearer and dearer. Give of your love, your help, your sympathy and comfort to your own family first and most. Those with happy homes are more able to give from the heart to others in need. No one can tell how far the influence of a happy home will go.

He Wanted to Know.

The late E. H. Harriman, says the Wall Street Journal, was a stickler for facts. He cared little for an approximate statement. When he asked his employees for information he wanted it definite.

While traveling through the cheerless deserts of Nevada one day with a number of the officials of the Union Pacific, the train passed a little station with much platform, a bleak background of sagebrush and junipers, and no habitation within sight.

"What is that station there for?" asked Mr. Harriman of one of the railway officials with the party.

Prescriptions Put Up Right!

Mistakes in putting up doctor's prescriptions may result in death. - How do such serious mistakes occur? They may occur through the hurried carelessness of the pharmacist or clerk who fills the prescription. They may occur because he misreads the Latin terms of the prescription. Often doctors write hurriedly under stress or their writing is naturally hard to read, but we are very particular. We check everything.

Just Watch Yourself Go By!

This is a time when the motto, "Put yourself in his place!" is a good motto for every American. It is a time full of temptation to hasty judgment—judgment of your foreign-born neighbor, judgment of those in authority. When you are tempted to utter some harsh criticism—think of this poem. Ask yourself, "Am I doing my part?" and you will find less to condemn in others.

Just stand aside and watch yourself go by—
Think of yourself as "he" instead of "I";
Note closely, as in other men you note,
The bag-kneed trousers and the seedy coat.
Pick flaws; find fault; forget the man is you,
And strive to make your estimate ring true.
Confront yourself and look you in the eye—
Just stand aside and watch yourself go by.

Interpret all your motives just as though
You looked on one whose aims you did not know.
Let undisguised contempt surge through you when You see you shirk, O commonest of men!
Despise your cowardice; condemn whate'er
You note of falseness in you anywhere.
Defend not one defect that shames your eye—
Just stand aside and watch yourself go by.

And then, with eyes unveiled to what you loathe—
To sins that with sweet charity you'd clothe—
Back to your self-walled tenement you'll go
With tolerance for all who dwell below.
The faults of others then will dwarf and shrink,
Love's chain grow stronger by one mighty link,
When you, with "he" as substitute for "I,"
Have stood aside and watched yourself go by.

Mrs. S. H. Gilson is visiting relatives in Tomahawk.

Wesley O'Brien returned from Milwaukee Sunday.

Mrs. H. Perrault and children are visiting in Weyerhaeuser.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bentley were among Camp Douglas visitors last week.

Dee Clark is in Sheboygan. It is said that Dee will not return home alone.

Mr. Joseph Hartley and Mrs. Geo. Williams are attending the Marsh field fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Mangerson and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roepcke were Antigo visitors Sunday.

Mrs. William Whittaker, who visited her son, Ray, at Camp Douglas, returned home Sunday.

NEW WAR DANCES

Private Floyd Maybee writes us that the latest military dances at Camp Douglas are "The Cavour Center," "The Armstrong Creek Glide," "The Wabeno Wiggle," "The Jennings Jump," "The Naughty Nashville Nudge," "The Laona Lame Duck," "Teasing the Goat," "The Hiles Hawaiian Hop," "The Soperton Slip," "Crandon Clog," and the "Company H Special" which is a cross between a fox-trot and a houchi-ma-chooch. It is said Rube Johnson can do the latter to perfection. He was a kind of lumber cuss anyway.—Crandon Republican.

LAWYERS IMPOSE ON DRAFTED MEN

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER Madison, Wis. August 18, 1917.

Dr. H. L. Garner, Rhinelander, Wis. Dear Sir:— I am informed that some lawyers are seeking the business of preparing affidavits for individuals who wish to file claims for exemption on industrial or agricultural grounds. It has been further called to my attention that fees of twenty-five dollars are being asked from these persons.

I wish to call the attention of all persons who desire to file such claims that it is absolutely unnecessary to engage an attorney for this work. Local boards will be glad to give you the information and the chairman and secretaries are authorized to administer oaths. A public-spirited notary public in each local board jurisdiction has agreed to certify to these affidavits without charge. All persons who file claims with district boards ought to understand that what the district boards want is a plain statement of the facts. An ingeniously worded affidavit in the legal phraseology of a lawyer does not help a man's case. It hinders it rather. Please advise all persons who come to you that a statement in plain English of the facts in the case will be given more consideration by the district board than any highfalutin affidavit prepared by an attorney.

It is contrary to the spirit of the selective service law for claimants to have to go to this extraordinary and unnecessary expense. The most they ought to pay in the preparation of these affidavits is a nominal fee. Members of local and district boards and doctors and lawyers who are taking appeals for the government are giving unservedly of their time with practically no remuneration to see that the law is faithfully and impartially administered.

The conduct of the few lawyers who are exploiting individuals has been severely condemned by lawyers to whom I have talked. They regard it and I regard it, too, as not only unpatriotic but unethical from the professional point of view.

Please give this letter to your local newspapers.

EAGLE RIVER

(Vilas County News)

Two changes in residency will be made this week by Judge Radcliffe and P. J. Gaffney. The former vacates the P. J. Gaffney property on Wall and First street, moving to his new home on Wall and Second recently vacated by David Schlack. Gaffney who has resided for years across the track on the county road comes over into the village and occupies his new home which the judge has vacated. This is berry season and local housewives are availing themselves of the good opportunity to lay in a supply for the winter season and incidentally "do their bit" in lowering the H. C. L. of war time days. Raspberries are the order of the day.

It will be of interest to their Eagle River friends to learn that Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fraser are now living in Chicago. Mr. Fraser is with the Elman Tire and Rubber Co. Mrs. Fraser was formerly Miss Jennie Ross of this place.

The A. G. Felzman family departed for Milwaukee Monday evening to take up their residence. During their three years stay in Eagle River, the Felzmans conducted the Eagle Inn on Railroad St.

Mrs. Wm. O'Neil, wife of dam tender at Long lake dam, near Phelps, was taken to the Appleton Hospital Friday suffering from an attack of appendicitis. Later reports are that her condition is not serious.

(Eagle River Review)

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. McGill of Ladysmith, and their son Allan, of St. Paul arrived here Wednesday night to visit relatives and old time friends as a family, for the first time in twenty years. Before that time, were residents here for some years. Moving to Ladysmith about the time Bask county was organized. Mr. McGill being the first District Attorney for that county and since one of the prominent residents there. The son seven years of age when the family left here, now at 27 is Asst. Dist. Atty. for Ramsey county of which St. Paul is the county seat. An appointive office, in which merit must have been somewhat at least, although with this good start in life at his age, we expect to hear more from him later as a factor in Minnesota local circles and perhaps in a political way as well.

The new owners of the Sanborn dairy farm across the river, Geo. M. Meyer and family of Chicago arrived this week to take possession. They were preceded by John Kern who will be associated with Mr. Meyer in the management of the farm. It is fully equipped with farm buildings modern to the last degree including two sets of head of cattle, two teams and all farm machinery went with the farm. The new proprietor will continue it as a milk producing factory for which it is well adapted.

LAW SUPPLEMENTS

The New North has a limited number of the 1917 Law Supplements, containing all the new laws enacted by the last legislature. While the supply lasts, one of these supplements will be given to any adult who calls for same at this office.

Wausau Baby Talk

Largely upon the initiative of G. H. Jones and a group of associated ladies from the Women's Club, the city of Wausau has set out upon an ambitious plan to make it self a cordial host for newborn infants. During eleven weeks of this summer an experiment has been conducted which should prove suggestive not alone to the people of Wausau but to those of other Wisconsin communities as well.

The fundamental idea is that parents do not know their babies as well as they should and that they ought to get together and learn more about them. Without any big noise or advertising, but at regular intervals, the mothers have been getting together in neighborhood groups and talking babies and listening to informal discussion by local physicians who contributed their time gratis to the community enterprise.

At the first visit, the babies were examined and weighed. When found to be normal they were again weighed and looked over at each subsequent visit to make sure that they were keeping well. Little disorders were corrected before they became big. This simple method is practically all there is to successful baby culture. Get the baby in right condition, then keep him so. It is not a difficult task as a rule, but it does call for constant watchfulness.

A visiting nurse from the staff of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association was engaged to take charge of the details of organization and to visit in the homes of the babies. The meetings were made attractive by the serving of refreshments and the occasional introduction of other forms of social entertainment attractive to the feminine soul.

There is a splendidly persistent spirit behind this community enterprise of Wausau. The supporters realize that their work is not done but only fairly well begun. They realize that it isn't waking a town up that makes it safe for babies, but keeping it awake.

Among future measures being considered are: Little Mothers' Clubs for instruction of girls; permanent baby stations; the whole time employment of a visiting nurse specializing in this work; extension of work to neighboring villages and rural districts and establishment of a supply of certified baby-feeding milk.

HURRY-UP ORDER KNITTING SQUAD

The local chapter of the Red Cross has received an urgent call from J. J. O'Connor, director of the central division at Chicago, for a quantity of knitted woolen articles. The rush appeal for these articles of apparel was prompted by receipt of the following cablegram from Major Grayson Murphy who is with the American forces in Europe:

"Last winter broke the record for cold and misery among people here. We unexpectedly dread the coming winter finding us without supplies to meet the situation. I urge you, on behalf of our soldiers and those of our allies who will suffer in their frozen trenches, and also thousands of French and Belgian refugees and repatriates being returned through Switzerland to France. Everyone here looks to America to begin shipping at once 1,500,000 each of warm knitted woolen articles. We have already requested that they must come before cold weather, and in view of the shortage of fuel, and other discomforts they will be of incredible value in both military and civilian work."

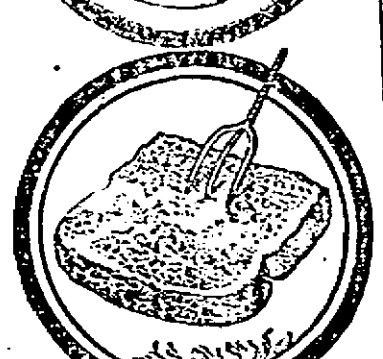

MRS. LEISMAN PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Mary E. Leisman, a former resident of Rhinelander, died August 15, at her home in Merrill. The Merrill Herald gives the following account of her death:

For five and one-half years Mrs. Leisman had suffered more or less with rheumatism and it was but a week ago that she was forced to confine herself to her bed. Inflammatory rheumatism, together with summer complaint, contributed to weaken her condition to such an extent that she gradually sank lower and lower until 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, when she answered the final call.

In spite of her physical condition Mrs. Leisman was always a cheerful motherly woman who loved and was loved by everybody with whom she came in contact. To her children's moral welfare she had given of her best, teaching the way of the righteous and expounding to their learnings the meaning of that Great Book that is to mean so much to their future lives. And as a divine reward her eyes had at last been opened to behold in glory that in which she on earth believed.

Mrs. Leisman was born in Hartford on the 18th of November, 1859. On April 18, 1878, she was married to C. W. Leisman and they together took up residence in various Wisconsin cities, including Antigo and Rhinelander, before moving to this city in 1903, where Mr. Leisman was engaged in business with the late firm of F. Hankwitz & Son until his death in March, 1907. Fifteen children were born to this couple, five of whom preceded their parents in death.

ONEIDA COUNTY TAXPAYERS' ASSOCIATION

FIRST ANNUAL REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS

First Annual Report of The Directors

This Association was organized in March, 1916—for the purpose of securing a more equitable basis for taxation in the County, and guarding the taxpayers from excessive levies of taxes, from the unauthorized expenditure of municipal funds, and generally looking after the interests of the taxpayers of the County in matters relating to the taxation of their property.

The board of Directors appointed an Attorney to act directly in the matter, under the instructions and directions of the Board.

The first work undertaken by the Directors was the inspection of the levies made in each town for the year 1916.

The town Clerks of the different towns were asked to furnish itemized statements of the levies made at the annual town meetings.

The levies made at the annual town meetings were, in many cases, more than the law authorized.

In all such cases the supervisors of such towns were at once notified of the fact, and of the particular item or items of such over levy, and were warned to keep the levy within the limits prescribed in the annual tax roll.

The Board next directed the Attorney to make up and publish a synopsis of the laws upon the subject of assessment, taxation, levies, and disbursements of public funds, and to mail the same to all the town, city and County officers of the County, and to the members of the Association.

This work was done in July, 1916. The Attorney was also directed to check up the proceedings of the County Board for the year ending March 31, 1916.

This work was also done and the result of this checking was published in the local newspapers.

The result as found and published showed that the amount of money disbursed for "Committee work" so called was ridiculously large, and members of the County Board had, in a number of cases been paid for Committee work, who were not members of the Committee for which they received such pay, and that other members of Committees were over-paid the amount they were legally entitled to under the law.

All persons who had drawn what the Directors considered was illegal were asked to refund the amount over-drawn.

In addition to the foregoing work the Directors authorized the Attorney to check up the proceedings of the different towns and town officers for the year ending March 31, 1917.

This work has been done as carefully as possible, considering the condition of the records in some of the towns, and a schedule of the financial condition of the different towns is annexed to and made part of this report.

Financial Schedules of the Towns as found from the Town Records.

Levies made by the Electors at annual Town meeting April, 1916, as follows:

General fund $1000.00
Highway fund 1000.00
Bridge fund 1000.00
State Aid Highway 1400.00

Assessed valuation 1916... $384,700

Sale cemetery lots 9.00
Over run of tax roll 50.63

Total receipts $5110.80
Disbursements—
Orders, gen. fund $1057.09
Orders road fund 1908.97
Personal tax cancelled 27.32 $2993.38

Balance $2127.42
NOTE: The highway levy and bridge levy should be combined and charged to the highway fund—this makes that fund $2900. Unless the town has 500 inhabitants it is limited to $2600 for highway and bridge fund.

The business of this town was well and economically conducted and the records are in good shape.

We believe that attention to these suggestions and an honest effort to carry them into execution by the public officers will go a long way in reducing taxation.

Conclusion

In conclusion we wish to acknowledge our obligation to the different town officers for assistance in our work.

Whenever such officers have cooperated with us they have made our work easier and more satisfactory.

We also wish to say that in a large majority of the Towns, the levies of taxes have been reasonable and within the limit prescribed by law and the expenditures have been reasonable and within the amount of taxes raised.

There are some of the towns however, where the officers, either through ignorance or carelessness have paid no attention to the limitation placed by law upon taxation, and it is up to the taxpayers of those towns to see that such officers are retrained as soon as possible.

The Directors have had only about $700.00 with which to do the work allotted to them for the past year, and there is a small balance of the fund still in the treasury. If the work is to go on it will be necessary to reorganize for the work of the present year.

Our work has been handicapped to a large extent by strong opposition.

As soon as the Association was organized, certain pothouse politicians in office and out, assumed that we were after their political scalps, and as those political favors meant their living they naturally took up arms against us. By their propaganda, made among taxpayers with whom they had personal influence, political pull or official relations, they succeeded in keeping many of the large and influential taxpayers of the County from joining with us. We have worried along however in spite of this opposition, and we are able to keep on going until we have taught the people the doctrine of Municipal economy, the public officials their rights, responsibilities and duties, and have weeded out and destroyed the political and official graft and grafters of this County.

Respectfully submitted,

A. W. BROWN,

F. R. TRIPP,

J. WIESMAN,

H. C. BRAEGER,

E. S. SHEPARD,

S. S. MILLER,

Directors.

NEXT CONVENTION IN SHEBOYGANMerchants' Association Closes Very Successful Meeting In Wausau

From the Wausau Pilot is taken the following account of convention of the Retail Grocers and General Merchants' Association in that city last week. E. O. Barstow, S. B. Gary, O. A. Kolden and Arnold Mangerson attended from Rhinelander.

The Wisconsin Retail Grocers and General Merchants' Association concluded its final session last Wednesday, after holding a three day convention in this city. Delegates went home feeling that they had derived much benefit from hearing the experience of others and also from the several excellent talks on subjects of general interest to all members of the association.

Among the things of interest which the association did the last day was the placing of the question of the state legislature's putting a tax on all goods sold in this state by mail order houses in the hands of its secretary, M. Slattery. The matter will later be taken up with members of the legislature. This is at least a protection for local dealers who are often seriously affected by intruding mail order houses.

Other things of especial interest were taken up. The association disapproved employers purchasing supplies and other necessities for distribution to employees. This, they claimed, crowds dealers out. The cooperative delivery plan was approved and it was urged that an effort be made throughout the state in cities to introduce the cooperative delivery system.

Sheboygan was chosen for the 1918 convention. An effort was made by Madison to secure it, but the vote was 40 to 27 against that city. Late Wednesday afternoon an invitation was received from Milwaukee.

Among other things of interest the latter part of the session were the attempts to change the name of the association and the raising of dues to $2 per year.

The convention closed late Wednesday afternoon with the election of the following officers for the coming year:

Pres., Geo. E. Spindler, Superior.

First Vice Pres., C. J. Petri, Milwaukee.

Second Vice Pres., Chas. H. Goodman, Kenosha.

Treas., James P. Pavern, Milwaukee.

J. H. Hellwig of Hayward, was re-elected trustee for the three years. A rising vote of thanks was tendered the retiring presi., R. W. Hiegelman, of Racine.

Wednesday afternoon the visitors were taken for an automobile ride to the shooting park, where a short time was spent.

The Hotel Bellis was the scene of an evening party and cabaret on the same evening. There was also a band concert at the court house square. Mrs. Walter Gogg sang several solos at the Hotel Bellis, "If You Love Me," by MacDermid; "Bring You Heart's Ease," by Branscombe; "Morning," by Speaks, and "Love's Echo," by Newton. Will I. LaCarte sang "Somewhere a Voice is Calling," in addition to several popular selections. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

The delegates and visitors at the convention started to leave Wednesday evening though a large number of them stayed over until the following morning.

Stains on Leather.

Ink stains on brown leather can be removed by a weak solution of oxalic acid. Apply with a small paint brush, but only allow a few minutes to elapse before wiping the solution away. Two or three applications may be necessary to remove an old deep-seated stain.

BRONZE TURKEY BEST KNOWN

Male Bird of Breed Sometimes Reaches Enormous Size—Does Not Bear Confinement Well.

The largest and perhaps the best known of the domesticated turkey is the Bronze, sometimes called the Mammoth Bronze. The male bird of this breed reaches an enormous size sometimes. The standard weight for the tom is 35 pounds and for the hen 20 pounds.

Generally the heavier weights are found among the breeding birds, and are not for sale. As a matter of experience breeders find that the greatest demand for the holiday trade is for the smaller birds suitable for a dinner for an ordinary family.

The plumage of the Bronze is very attractive. The feathers are bronze or dull black with bands of white across. The bronze tint gives pleasing color effects.

One common objection has been that the Bronze hen is not a very good layer. But it is generally found that laying is largely an individual characteristic. Many prefer the Bronze and generally this breed by far outnumbers the others on the holiday market.

The Bronze turkeys are close descendants of the American wild turkey, which is still found in some parts of our country. The young of the domesticated birds soon show a tendency to wander in search of food. They can fly to an astonishing height when it becomes necessary.

The young turkeys do not bear confinement well. For anything like satisfactory results they should range in the fields and pastures. They are very useful in keeping down insects that destroy crops, and many farmers' wives have sold enough turkeys during the season preceding the holidays to provide comforts and conveniences for the home.
